

Pandunia

Why do I like Pandunia?

I love transforming my worldview to become really world-encompassing

I think its international focus is better informed than that of Esperanto

I love Pandunia as a Persian, because I feel that it kinda works like my own language; I don't feel the same about Esperanto, although I love Esperanto Simplicity in grammar. Truly global source of vocabulary. Unusually culturally neutral in that way.

An auxlang design that lacks many common mistakes (unnecessary complexity, weird non-familiar words, not really culturally neutral)

a posteriori language - words are from other languages and not made up

Pandunia is a constructed global interlanguage. In other words, it is a man-made language that is designed to serve in international communication everywhere in the world as a supplement to other languages.

www.pandunia.info
risto@pandunia.info
www.facebook.com/groups/pandunia
www.reddit.com/r/pandunia/

Pandunia is a constructed language that is designed to be relatively easy for everyone. You can learn it fast.